Chagrin Falls-based Halcyon Products, Inc. Announces The Appointment of Kyle Wamelink as Newest Sales Rep

Move Represents Significant Increase in Sales Coverage for Supply Leader to First Responder Market

Chagrin Falls, OH - February 1, 2007. It has been announced that Mr. Kyle Wamelink will join Halcyon Products, Inc. as a Sales Representative for the firm's growing list of fire prevention products designed exclusively for the North American First Responder market.

Mr. Wamelink, a recent Clarion University graduate and NCAA swimmer, has had significant experience in water safety issues, management of recreational swimming facilities and other practical training that relates closely to the mission of the firm.

According to Halcyon President, John C. Moore, 'Kyle's academic training, including a bachelors of science degree with a concentration in biology, and his extensive laboratory training will be real assets in his new position. The firm looks forward to Kyle's contribution, especially in the educational training of first responders who regularly use the firm's many fire prevention, detection and other products designed for this growing market.'

Mr. Wamelink will be responsible for day-to-day sales operations including managing customer service activities, supporting marketing initiatives and assisting the firm's principals with vendor relations. He can be reached at the firm's Chagrin Falls headquarters or via www.halcyonproducts.com.
