Halcyon Products, Inc. Announces Appointment of Christopher P. Mantz
Experienced Product Engineer Further Advances Product Development Capabilities

Chagrin Falls, Ohio (March 28, 2008) Halcyon Products, Inc., provider of high-quality, innovative products that serve safety and emergency responders, announces the appointment of Mr. Christopher P. Mantz to the position of Product Manager, further expanding the company's product development efforts.

Mr. Mantz, a graduate of Miami University (Ohio) holds a B.S. in Engineering Management. He also earned the Engineer-In-Training (EIT) Certificate from Ohio Board of Engineers. His wide range of engineering experience includes serving as Production Manager at Jeld-Wen Windows & Doors, and Design Engineer for the New Product Development Group of Swagelok. Mr. Mantz joins a Halcyon team of sales, marketing and technical professionals all of whom have innovative and life saving experience within the first responder industry.

As Product Manager for Halcyon Products, Mr. Mantz will work to bring additional innovative products to the market, while ensuring that each of these products incorporates the most effective and vital features needed to make these products truly effective. Halcyon recently began marketing the Fireground Compass™, a revolutionary new device designed to prevent firefighters from becoming disoriented as they entered and exited burning buildings.

Mr. Steve Nash, Halcyon V.P. of Product Development, and innovator of the Fireground Compass™ comments, "having Chris on board will allow us to further expand our product development programs while maintaining traditional high standards of product quality. Chris' impressive experience in product engineering will guarantee that Halcyon continues to develop products that will help first responders train for their jobs and save lives. We are pleased to welcome him to our team."

Mr. Mantz, based at Halcyon headquarters in Chagrin Falls, Ohio, can be reached at cpmantz@halcyonproducts.com or via phone at 440-543-1518 ext. 304.
